Reims development workflow

Charles makes changes to the API, tests them and when satisfied pushes them to heroku and github alongside with the documentation on the expected output of the API.

Kuda developes the user interface based on the API developed by Charles and uploads it to heroku and github. It will be accessible via https://reims-ui.herokuapp.com.